Elected Officers
IFALPA Secretariat

November 6th, 2015

Dear Colleagues,

We are writing to update you regarding staff changes within IFALPA. As you know, the IFALPA Secretariat is here to support the work of IFALPA's Executive Board, Committees and Regional Representatives, as well as providing services to all our Member Associations around the world.

It is with great regret we inform you that Captain David Begin, IFALPA's Technical Officer, has decided to leave IFALPA on November 15th and relocate to the United States for personal reasons. David started his work with the Federation on October 1st, 2013, and has since taken care of the Human Performance, Aerodrome & Ground Environment and Helicopter Committees and all related matters. He proved to be a valued colleague and a knowledgeable advocate for the interests of the global airline pilots' community.

For a temporary period, until a new Technical Officer is found, David will be available to IFALPA as a consultant and continue most of his current duties. We thank David for his dedicated work and wish him and his family well on his new way ahead.

We would like to fill the soon vacant position of Technical Officer as soon as possible and would highly appreciate your assistance. To all our Member Associations, we kindly ask if you would forward the attached job description and application details to any person(s), in and/or outside your organization, who might be interested in becoming a Technical Officer for the Federation. It would be most helpful if the job posting and application details also be published on your websites, through your social media outlets and via mailing lists to members and suitable aviation contacts.

The Technical Officer position is based in Montreal. The incumbent is expected to relocate to the Greater Montreal Metropolitan Area and perform the duties of this full-time position at the IFALPA HQ, with frequent worldwide travelling being part of the duties.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Christoph Schewe, Managing Director, via email: christophschewe@ifalpa.org.
